The Month of August

This year is swiftly passing by. Unbelievably, we are now in the month of August. August remains one of the hottest months of the year across the United States. Did you know that August marks the start of the harvest season, a time of abundance and celebration. Farmers begin to gather crops such as wheat, barley, and oats, which have ripened over the summer. This period is not only crucial for agriculture but also for food enthusiasts who look forward to fresh, locally sourced produce.

Despite the approaching end of summer, August offers many reasons to stay positive and enjoy the season. From the vibrant beauty of sunflowers and the start of the harvest season to the excitement of blackberry picking and the peaceful sound of crickets chirping, there is much to look forward to. Embrace the beauty and activities this month brings and make the most of the lingering summer warmth. August is a time to celebrate and enjoy nature, enjoy seasonal traditions, and create lasting memories.

NATIONAL BACK TO SCHOOL MONTH

National Back to School Month in August gears up parents, teachers, school, and students for a season of education. Whether you're ready or not, friends, activities, and books are just around the corner. With shorter days, it's time to dust off the backpacks, fill them up, and plan for a new school year. Preparing children for the new year includes everything from supplies, clothes, checkups, planning schedules, and making new friends. Teachers develop their lesson plans and ready their classrooms for the new, smiling faces.

Despite all the excitement, the expense of going back to school can put a damper on going back to school. Fill-the-bus events, backpack programs, and teacher supply initiatives help to fill the gaps. Organizations around the country pull together to make the first day of school fun every year. GET READY TO LEARN!

August is also known for several major health and social awareness causes, most notably National Immunization Awareness Month and National Breastfeeding Month.

National Immunization Awareness Month: Promotes the importance of vaccination for people of all ages.

National Breastfeeding Month: Highlights the health benefits of breastfeeding and ways to support nursing mothers.
